

Housing Problem In City Is Grave

House hunting is a headache! It's a downtown-wide headache, extending from east to west coast. It's the most severe housing shortage in Canadian history, and is causing widespread doubling up in all the principal cities in Canada.

Everywhere the story is the same. There are not enough houses and apartments to accommodate the population.

According to a country-wide survey undertaken earlier this year, Montreal is hardest hit. In that city, there are 15,000 families seeking separate homes, while it is estimated there are 45,000 families living with others.

Toronto comes next in line, with Vancouver, Winnipeg and Edmonton sharing the dubious distinction of third place standing.

In Edmonton today, it is estimated that 5,000 new homes might comfortably house the present overflow of population, and a reserve of 2,000 additional homes would take care of a natural future increase. In other words, with 7,000 new homes, Edmonton might no longer have a housing shortage. The problem of housing in Edmonton is no interesting one.

BUILDING BOOMS

According to facts and figures, more dwelling units have been constructed in the city this year than in any other year in the city's history.

In 1946, 1,700 new homes were built, at a cost of $7,200,000. In 1947 construction dropped to 1,500 homes, built at a cost of $6,400,000. This year, building has boomed, and to date 31 apartment houses have been built, and 2,000 homes completed for sale or rent, at a total cost of $13,500,000.

NO IMPROVEMENT

However, even with the acceleration of construction and the building boom throughout the city, officials in rental office Emergency Housing and other key positions agree that the outlook is disturbing.

The housing situation in Edmonton is not one will better than it was a time last year. Some say it is worse.

Emergency Housing in Edmonton reports that they cannot possibly cope with the requests for housing. Every month an approximate 300 requests are added to their list of people wanting homes. Urgent cases are always considered first.

The YWCA in Edmonton, which maintains a room registry for girls seeking rooms and housekeeping accommodation, reports that the demand far exceeds the supply and they cannot begin to accommodate any who register.

OIL BOOM

Continuing influx of people to Edmonton, is attributed mainly to the discovery of oil in the Leduc area and partly to the influx of Edmontonians generally, as a result of the oil "wildcat" boom in the west. The increased business promoted by the Leduc oil wells has aggravated Edmonton's housing shortage.

Whether or not the situation will soon improve, officials hesitate to say, for it is impossible to predict exactly how many people may be in the future and how big the 750,000. Gateway to the North, city of opportunity, "where things happen."

Training Scheme For Librarians Is Considered

Training of rural librarians is the objective behind the most recent project of the Alberta Library Board. It was learned today from Richard Macdonald, Alberta's co-ordinator of cultural activities.

The library board will propose that selected librarians from country points be brought to city libraries as assistants for a few months on a paid basis. This will be followed by a six-week course in library management at the University of Alberta.

The project is now awaiting government approval.

Hospital Board Meets Friday

Members of the Edmonton Hospital Board will make a tour of inspection of the Royal Alexandra hospital prior to the group's general meeting Friday at the nurses' home at the hospital.

Following the inspection, dinner will be served.

Firemen Probe Blaze In South Side Home

Edmonton's fire department had a busy month in October, responding to 165 alarms. There were, however, no major fires.

In the monthly report sent to city commissioners, Fire Chief James Macgregor lists one case of arson, fire in the boy's South Side home at 83 Avenue and 104 Street on Oct. 25. Investigation in fire is continuing.

There were 14 false alarms and 81 fires were listed as grass, brush or ground blazes.

Fire Marshal Jack Booth investigated 30 fires and 68 buildings were inspected in October. Sixteen of 20 complaints and approved of six houses. Three were for restaurants, one for a hall and two for parking and repair.

Complete investigation department with unsatisfactory conditions reported by fire inspectors, where these could be improved the necessary changes.

Children playing with matches caused three fires. One fire in a material placed against gas heaters caused three fires and there were four chimney fires.

UNFAMILIARITY PROVES COSTLY

Running through a stop-sign into the side of another car on a Tawacian resident $40 in police court.

He is Dennis Eliak, who told court that he had just purchased a new car and was unfamiliar with the city and its traffic regulations.

Police Constable George Mitchell testified that Eliak, proceeding east on 4th Avenue, failed to notice a stop-sign and ran through the intersection of 27 Street, hitting the side of a southbound auto. Inflicting damage on the latter.

His own car sustained only minor damage.

Varsity Club Shows Surplus

University of Alberta musical association shows a net surplus of over $1,200 this year, according to a report.

The group, including the mixed chorus, ball and symphony club, is the only organization of students to show a profit for the year.

Budget of university organizations will be considered Friday by the Students' Union Council.

The council has recommended curtailing of unnecessary activities and reducing expenses, and suggestions will be placed before the student body at the Friday meeting.

Last year's union budget was the largest in the university's history, with a total revenue of $13,125 and total expenditures of $11,792.

Revenues, including this year's amounts to about $11,800 with expenditures near $10,900. Various organizations will ask expense grants ranging from $50 to $500.

Bridge Work Unhindered By Water Rise

Despite extraordinary rise in the level of the North Saskatchewan River, bridge work is being made with the construction of the substructure of the new bridge span.

Rise of five feet in the river level was reported by the city engineer's department Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. W. Hadow, city engineer, said the increase was caused as ice jammed up water west of the city. The water level now is three feet above the normal level for this time of the year.

He said a steady decline in the water level could be expected from Wednesday.

Disease Campaign Planned Here

A series of meetings dealing with control of mumps and Bang's disease in the city district, will have been arranged by district officers, C. J. Whitbread and J. M. Fontaine.

First of these is being held tonight at Ottawa school north of Ellice, and will be addressed by Dr. E. J. Ballantine, chief provincial veterinarian and Dr. G. M. Little, Edmonton's medical health officer.

North Edmonton Hall has been selected as the site of a meeting to be held on Thursday. The same speakers will appear.

On Wednesday night next, Dr. Ballantine will be accompanied on the platform by Mr. Manning, provincial director of communicable diseases, at a meeting at East Edmonton hall.

RCAF Signals Chief Named

Appointment of Wing-Commander Karl Likness as chief signals officer at North West Air Command, was announced today.

He succeeds Hugh L. R. D. Hansen, who has held the post for the last two years.

Wing-Commander Likness comes to Edmonton from Ottawa and is a former member of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals.

He was with the RCAF at Camp Hardisty from 1942 to 1945, and spent considerable time in the North West Territories during that period.

He enlisted in the RCAF in 1941 and later was overseas where he was connected with RCAF Transport Command units.

Government Taken To Task On Game Laws

Government officials are inclined to be prohibitionists in the matter of game conservation, E. Brown, past president of the Alberta Fish and Game Protective League charged when he addressed the group's general meeting Tuesday at the Masonic Temple.

Discussing a recent violation of the league's rules by the federal government, Mr. Brown said he was disappointed in the attitude of government officials towards conservation laws.

They "tend to be more prohibitionists than conservationists," he said.

Mr. Brown also reported both migratory and upland birds more plentiful in this area than in past years, but said that fishing was not as good as usual.

Motion passed at the meeting advocates the use of auto-loading shotguns in Alberta, providing guns are plugged to hold a maximum of three shells.

New officers elected to executive of the league were C. E. Penner, David Bus, W. J. Briskman, J. P. G. W. A. Crawford, James Hamilton and J. A. McNeil were re-elected.

An advisory committee composed of Dave Crumback, CFN, Dall Eklun, CJC, Reg. Shaw, CRU, and Bill Bell, CRX, was also elected.

Death Sentence Appeal Opens Here

20-Year-Old Farmer Seeks New Hearing

Appeal by Mike Zachariuk, 20-year-old Halcyon Hills district resident, against death sentence imposed by Mr. Justice C. J. Ford on a charge of murdering William Pacholek, Spedden district farmer, opened in appeal court today.

Zachariuk is slated to be hanged January 12.

Zachariuk was found guilty of the murder by a six-man jury on Oct. 13. The murder was alleged to have been committed between May 13 and 23 of this year.

The appellant's father, mother and sisters were present during the morning session of the hearing. They followed the proceedings closely but showed no signs of emotion.

Frank Dunn, Edmonton barrister, seeking dismissal of the murder charge in the alternative, a new trial, submitted the trial judge had erred in his charge to the jury when he asserted there was no "evidence of a deal between the murdered man and Zachariuk." Counsel for the appellant contended there was evidence of such a deal.

Appellant's counsel also submitted there was no proper identification of the body found in the Hamelin Trail, and had repeatedly charged the jury with the blood from the appellant contended there was evidence of such a deal.

The hearing is continuing today.

The voyage of Christopher Columbus across the North Atlantic took 79 days, from Aug. 3 to Oct. 12, 1492.

Is CNR Staling Again?

Mayor Harry D. Ainlay's report to the people of Edmonton that Canadian National officials are more favorably disposed towards an addition to the Macdonald hotel is the product of a patient and commendable effort on his part.

The Edmonton Bulletin knows for a fact that the railway company had written off the project completely.

That Mayor Ainlay comes back with even a lukewarm answer from the CNR indicates that the matter has been reopened and that it has been reopened through the diligence and persistence of the mayor and others.

But Mayor Ainlay obviously cannot be completely satisfied with this equivocal kind of information. Certainly the people of Edmonton are not.

The CNR should now be in a position to say flatly, for once and for all, whether or not it proposes to build this desperately needed extension.

Anything less than a straight categorical answer, one way or the other, can very easily be nothing but stalling.

It should not be necessary for this city and its officials to approach any railway company, hat in hand, begging for service.

A Quick Decision, Please

Veterans resident in the Grierson Estate have now fulfilled all required conditions for a mail carrier service and Postmaster-General Bertand has promised by telegram to "look into the matter."

It should be a quick and favorable decision.

Nothing could be more disconcerting than a prolonged interval between completion of requirements and institution of the service.

Leaning on a Frail Reed

The "Letter-Review" of Fort Erie, which is uncommonly sound in many of its opinions, offers the view that the Red Dean of Canterbury has been sent to Canada and the United States by Soviet Russia "to suit the Moscow purpose of stirring up the woolly-minded to believe that Russian peace moves are genuine."

It is difficult to concur in that opinion because even Soviet Russia, one would think, would hardly care to lean on so frail a reed.

For Dean Hewlett Johnson's speeches, reported with generous space and fairness,

Town Planning Comes First

A good stroke of civic business was done in the Estate by Mayor Ainlay when he secured from the federal cabinet the tentative opinion that the rental control order-in-council was never intended to take priority over municipal zoning bylaws.

Mayor Ainlay's prompt and efficient action in this matter is a step in defence of town planning of which zoning is one of the basic factors.

If federal orders-in-council issued in regard to housing are permitted to overview to which it is entitled. This is an important and swiftly growing community that has just as much to contribute to the CNR as the CNR can contribute to Edmonton.

If CNR officials told Mayor Ainlay that they are more favorably disposed towards the hotel extension than they were a month ago, there is reason to suspect that they are just handing out the old run-around.

The CNR should know perfectly well by now if it is going to build this addition or not. And Edmonton people are entitled to something more from the railway company than a barometrical reading of its apparently capricious feeling toward the project.

If the CNR is not going to build, civic energies should be devoted towards attracting other hotel capital into Edmonton. This city needs at least 2,000 more hotel rooms than it has now.

All this basking and filling and stalling merely tends to keep other hotel investors out.

It is not good enough.

Kindly Philosopher

The veterans of the Grierson Estate have battled heroically to secure this amenity of civilized life. They have faithfully and with considerable cost and energy fulfilled every condition laid down by the post office department.

The least the department can do is to grant them a prompt reward for all their efforts to establish modern homes for themselves in a modern Canadian city.

Letters to the Editor

Deliberately Killed God

Editor, Bulletin—Pat is dead. He died yesterday morning under our flower garden. He was the best little dog, never did anyone any harm and always looked up and down the street before he crossed. The whole neighborhood loved him.

But on Wednesday his life was snuffed out. Some kind neighbor carried him home. Our two girls are inconsolable, they don't want another dog, none can take the place of Pat.

They took their father to bury him in the garden which was the last of his life. He was buried under the last shovel full of earth.

This is a sad letter but it is directed to one person alone. The person that deliberately severed to his old dog as he stood on the side of the road waiting to cross.

Anyone whose mind isn't cluttered tered up with Socialist nonsense knows that Democracy and Socialism cannot mix, but with the employment of either, the other disappears entirely. Socialism, with its bureaucratic centralism, cannot possibly be rule by the electorate. Democracy, as it's power and authority are decentralized and vested in the individual. Once the individual has lost this authority, all talk of Democracy is idle and futile.

I wish to point out to Mr. Miller that there is no "middle of the road" where these two systems can unite and form what CCF Socialists call "Democratic-Socialism." Either you are leftist enough to follow the road of the Socialist rule, or you are right enough to follow the road of the capitalist rule.

Mr. Miller's other subject is equally significant of his complete lack of knowledge of the meaning of the word "Democracy."

This new invention "Social-Democracy" which I presume Mr. Miller defines as "Social Credit" will do nothing but ruin the status of the party machine. And Mr. Miller, name me one Conservative who voices Social Credit. Name me one Conservative who advocates Democracy by the use of a union of electors.

New Speed Mania In Everything Is Most Deplorable

I keep thinking of the "Extra" Newswatch Magazine put out last week to cover the United States and its air power. It was a masterpiece of the genre.

Almost anything that makes the swift days swirl twice as fast, I mean, it's a masterpiece of the genre.

The Newswatch "Extra" was an eloquent commentary on our help-up time. Newspaper "Extras" have long since become a thing of the past. The only reason for their existence is to bring the news into the living room the instant it happens. But here we have a magazine devoted to the "significance" or, if you like, the "meaning" of the news-column.

With all this, I am disturbed, and I am disturbed because of the letters of the future will be lashed across the country by a letter.

I wrote my friend along these lines, proposing a less strenuous correspondence schedule, and he responded (two days later) that he had decided to send all mail to me. He had decided to send all mail to me.

Here surely is the invention that will finally murder the pleasant, perhaps, or modifying, in a quiet library, may now be their only refuge. For the Newswatch's experts were working at white heat, crushed by the weight of the news-column, sending their spillovered ink-drops to the printer in "takes."

If Cheerful, You're a Communist

It has been reported somewhere that anybody who looks cheerful during the present crisis is suspected of being a Communist.

The exact reverse of the position during the war, when anybody who looked miserable was considered to be spreading alarm and despondency and suspected of being a Fifth Columnist.

So the correct behavior is to look as miserable as possible now and laugh like a fool if war breaks out.

Laugh and the Communists live. Weep and you're pukka tree blue.

For a smile on your dial is proof that you're dead. And a tool of the Politbureau.

If Russians should march to the left, up your hearts and be glad. Then lift up your dials and smile. For the smile on your dials will prove that you're loyal. And quite, though ironically.

Your face will show which side you favor. So long as you know which it is. When things should get worse, go into reverse.

You miserable son of a blue pencil. Till

It is that my stomach? "Your stomach speaking."

"How do you like our new drink?" "New drink?" "Whisky and milk?" "Is better than you need now."

"It supposed to be good for our gut."

"No drink but water is good for our gut."

"Well, then, not quite so bad for it."

"Maybe."

"I thought the milk would free of acid."

"I didn't know that whisky was poison."

"Well, leave you free of acid, then."

"I am never free of acid."

"But doesn't it help a little bit?"

"Well, I say, doesn't it help a little bit?"

"I think the milk would free of acid."

"I didn't know that whisky was poison."

"Stand by for a double whisky and a double cordie."

"Good-bye."

"Good-bye."

"Good-bye."

"Good-bye."

"Good-bye."

"Good-bye."

"Good-bye."

"Good-bye."

At the beginning we admitted that the cost of living is a problem. It is really much too difficult to describe in a few lines.

Canucks' Ed Barrack put his club back in the game at 5:45 the second session when he scored on a nice solo effort. Leafs struck back to pick up a lead at the end of the period as Ron Phillips and Stewart' back-to-back goals tied the game at 3-3.

Amie Caragie and Phillips countered for the Leafs in the third while Don Haley and Barrack tallied for Canucks.

Don Brown of Leafs set the game out under a one-goal suspension for allegedly hitting referee Bob Haxby during Saturday's action.

A FREE WHEELER

EAC sped to a 4-1 margin at the first breather in the second game. South Siders started their comeback the first of two goals at 1:30 and was quickly followed by a third at 2:30. The Leafs' goal was scored by the clubmen.

Kilburn and Robertson were the EAC marksmen in the second. Clem McCloskey tallying once for South Siders.

Ken Johansson, for the Leafs, and Glen Lauder and Ed Thomas of EAC wound things up in the third.

There was a brief flurry in the final frame when Dave Little sent bashing at South Side net minder Ron Parks' hands for the puck after the whistle had blown. Parks bounced up and started swinging but was soon left out of the game by referee.

McCloskey and Little took over the battle. When Little quieted down, McCloskey took over and added major penalties and a penalty shot that was awarded Parks.

Thomas took the shot but Parks saved.

Opera Glasses Reveal Rousing Action at Wrestling Matches

IN THOSE FOCUSING at Tuesday's wrestling card in James Flaherty, the Lady with the Opera Glasses. She brings her glasses to every match and hasn't missed a single performance this season. The glasses help her penetrate the cigarette smoke which clouds the ring, she says.

"TAKE THAT, YOU CUR!" says Frank Murdoch as he plays the double wrist-lock to Jerry Meeker in the semi-final. The boys battled to a 45-minute draw and provided 2,200 grapping fans with a ton of action.

TOUGH GUY Lou Newman doesn't look the part in the above dressing room shot. However, he was anything but gentle as he walloped Stu Hart in the best-of-three falls main event.

Newman Berserk To Subdue Hart

By Dick Beddoes

Stu Hart got a second chance to crush Lou Newman in the wrestling show Tuesday night, but when armistice was declared the Victoria strong boy was in command.

With the main event even-though at one fall each Newman went berserk. His massive shoulders buffed Hart onto the apron of the ring and beyond to the concrete parking floor. The pride of millions was still out when referee Ray Steele counted 10.

And so it was Newman over Hart for the second successive week.

BEST CROWD EVER
Over 2,200 members of the Hart club didn't take their hero's defeat sitting down. No siree.

Rate customers, who simply love to hate Mr. Newman, teamed up to ringline to vent their wrath on the villain. Nobody swung a Sunday punch at the 265-pound Newman, however. Before that could happen promoter Al Corring signalled for the playing of "Save the King" and while everybody snapped to attention Newman hurried away to the showers.

'APRIL FOOL'
In the semi-final cowardly Frank Murdoch and cowboy Jerry Meeker squared each other to a 45-minute draw. Murdoch was a show all by himself. One time during the hilarity he yelled "look to his enemy, pointing behind the startled Meeker toward a spot in the tiers of seats beyond the lights. Figuring somebody had dropped an atom bomb, the paunchy Mr. Meeker turned to Meeker, and Frank promptly knocked his block off, calling "April Fool" even though it is mid-November.

The crowd liked that particular escapade especially since it came after Murdoch had absorbed all the punishment in the book. Before the melee was over both men were in and out of the ring like fiddlers' elbows.

The draw decision was well received.

Pantheon Manlapid disposed of Pete Krivonak in five minutes in a special match which cleared the Philadelphia champion won it all with the Cobra hold, which is reputed to cut off the circulation of blood to the brain. Be that as it may, it certainly cut short Krivonak's.

Referee Cecil Goldstick awarded the preliminary decision to Dallas Gaultie over Tex Wilkins. The latter was a naughty boy, dipping up all the mayhem to which clean wrestling never resort.

Besides the Gaultie: Steele was an asset on the card and his performance in the three main bouts was a good lesson to most of the audience. Goldstick and Wilkins were a good team, too.

Al Hi neighbor, who during the main tango he entered the fray himself to keep Newman from reacting to mayhem. . . .

SLOWINSKI EASES N.Y. BURDEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(CP)—Herbert Boddie O'Connor, New York's razor blade centre, is back in the fold but he won't be sparking the Rangers for a couple of weeks.

The little, 31-year-old holder of the Lady Byng and Hart trophies for best defencemen, last value respected, armageddon with the Blueshirts Tuesday in Madison Square Garden although his team-mates were careful not to mist his still-tender chest.

O'Connor will return to Montreal Friday for another check-up by doctors there on the condition of the two ribs he broke in an auto accident early last month.

The Montreal-born father of two girls expects to make his 1948-49 New York Rangers debut Nov. 20 here against Chicago Black Hawks.

Besides a special chest protector, he will carry into the game three extra pounds—unless he loses them in the meantime—gained during his enforced idleness.

The added weight brings him up to a total of 145 pounds when he was 135 when he was the lightest man in the NHL.

Ed Slowinski, the defenceman at the other end of Rangers' line, also has a broken rib.

HALLIGAN EXPECTED IN TOWN TODAY

Eddie Halligan, classy Spokane middleweight, who meets Roddy MacDonald at the Stock Pavilion Friday night, is expected to check into town today and likely will hold a public workout at the USO hall tonight.

Meanwhile, preparations for the bout, another step on MacDonald's comeback he hopes will lead to a fight with George Rose of Glace Bay, N.S., for the Canadian middleweight crown, are continuing apace.

MacDonald has continued his rigid training schedule and is sure he will be under the 160-pound limit at the Friday weigh-in at the USO hall.

Advance seat sales for the 10-round clash opened Thursday morning at Mike's and will continue until Friday afternoon.

This Is Another Season

A season ago Bob Solinger was the talk of the American Hockey league. The bruising Cleveland strongboy, who had joined the Hornets after dropping at Philadelphia and Edmonton, could do nothing wrong.

The goals came easy—10 in all before the curtain was wrong down. He had his share of assists. Long before time to bat for the rookie-of-the-year award it was obvious who was going to be the choice.

Solinger it was.

Came the emissaries of National Hockey league teams. Chicago offered Alex Kretz and a bundle of cash. New York Rangers tried to pry him loose from Al Stuppin. Toronto's firebrand general manager Conny Smythe got into the bidding with his $40,000.

"We'll give you $100,000 for that kid Solinger," Smythe, the guy who lives at the top of his voice, proclaimed.

Owner Stuppin turned a deaf ear to all NHL handshakes. "I just think I'll keep him," he was firm. "The fans like him. He helps to provide good hockey here in Cleveland. Maybe next year..."

This season Bob Solinger has yet to score his first goal in regular league play.

Does Chandler Know About This?

Vignette...

A number of Pacific outposts U.S. troops still keep a semi-religious vigil. They while away many of the hours playing baseball. In some cases the G.I.s have taken on the task of teaching the "great American game" to the natives.

Here and there the locals have cottoned to the pastime in fine style.

They tell of a contest played recently on the island of Truk. On this occasion the natives, suffering from a bad case of growing pains, issued a challenge to their visitors.

"We'll play you winner take all," the natives wrote to umpire the "grudge" test.

The betting on the outcome was surprisingly heavy. There was nothing to choose in style, the contest went into the 11th inning. Then the G.I.s tallied a run in the top half to go ahead 6-5. In their turn at bat the natives staged a comeback, and with one away, they worked a man around to third.

On the next play the batter hit to short and the G.I. infielder made the throw to the plate to cut off the tying run. Without bothering to determine what verdict the umpire had rendered at the plate the catcher wheeled and fired to first base, trying for the double play.

At both bases it was whisker close. But both times the umpire's arm shot skyward, indicating an out. The double play ended the battle.

Later it was determined that "His Nibs"—a king, even if he hurt—had $900 riding on the outcome... riding, that is, on the beaten natives.

The 'Before And After' Treatment

Vignette...

The man with the scar on the side of his face obviously was deeply agitated. He shifted in his seat, nervously eyed the horses parading to the gate, all the time wringing his hands.

A beautiful blonde, seated nearby, stood it as long as she could. Then she had to ask: "Fardon me, mister, but you seem awfully worried. What's the trouble?"

So he told her. He had hooked everything he owned... house, car, the family jewels... everything. And he money thus realized, close to $30,000, he had bet on "that number four down there," as he put it. The nag of his choice was 100-1. He stood to win a fortune... or lose everything.

The beautiful blonde understood... wanted to help, in fact. "This may sound silly," she admitted, "but pulling a strand of hair from my head is supposed to bring luck. And it's okay by me if you'd like to see how it works in your case."

What could he lose? He reached over and yanked a hair loose from his moustache. "I'll tell you what," he promised. "If that horse wins I'll marry you."

The horse came in from the paddock and true to his word the big winner married the blonde.

Ten years later and the man with the scar on his face is living in one room, hard by the track at Agua Caliente. He's down on his luck, hasn't a quarter even for a racing form. Yet the beautiful blonde is with him still. Only she's no longer a looker.

Injury-Riddled Riders Prepare for Grid Tilt

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—(CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders nursing the lumps they received in last week's grueling playoff series with Montreal Alouettes, had afternoon and evening practices at Lansdowne Park Tuesday, but kept the emphasis on rest.

While not boasting their title, Riders had Lyle Lalonde and Pete Finlay, respectively with a knee and a shoulder injury and a broken hand, as definite non-starters in next Saturday's Eastern final against Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

GOLAN NURSING ANKLE

In addition, their star backfielder, Tony Golan, had a twisted ankle and centre Don Loney was nursing a further injury before the game. However, that both players and centre Ed Smith were expected to be in shape for the sudden-death final. High, along with an ailing waist, was out of last Saturday's Big Four clincher.

Workouts, films and light warm-ups were expected to be the order of the week, with coach Finlay taking his players on further injuries before the game.

14,000 GATE OR BETTER

Meanwhile, fans, team and officials alike were excited at having evening action featuring the Roughriders in the Toronto Hockey league out the morning for an hour's practice in the city just outside of Toronto. The hockey-made youngsters were expected to be in shape for the Saturday night, natural-like rinks aren't available.

Wright, Jones Feel $2 Million Out of Reach

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Clatsop's second million will be harder to get away. Warren Wright and Ben Jones are among those who feel that amount is out of Mr. Richter's reach.

As a matter of fact, Wright, his owner, fears Clatsop's days of picking up "birdie" top sugar, simply by showing up at the track, are numbered. "He surely will lose a few faces when the handicappers get their hands on him," Wright said Tuesday.

Jones, general manager of Wright's racing interests, added: "No horse in our time will win two million. It's fantastic."

But Clatsop, now driving with his first million and regarded by some as the best horse in the world in 1969, has a few followers who are confident the Clatsop could make a financial fortune in the possibilities. His earnings to date total $300,250.

Grid Reviva Gets Good 'Going Over'

Bob Fritz is more than a fine physical specimen, albeit he's starting to carry a little excess weight after the fashion of many ex-athletes.

Mr. Fritz, as a matter of fact, is particularly true when he is to tell a gathering of Edmontonians just how much he thinks of Edmonton and its people.

Close to 40 were on hand at the Edmonton curling Tuesday night as a sort of semi-official welcome to the one-time Eskimo football star and more of our football players.

What he said... "You have the finest stadium in the west... some of the finest sportsmen... we were treated better here than anywhere else... Edmonton is a city with a wonderful future, etc."

"Edmonton should get back in the Western Conference," he stated firmly at another sign of his sprightly remarks.

SILENT GELAHVE

The place, Steve, spoke briefly, adding his thanks for the splendid welcome back to Edmonton. As well as the Edmontonians, he met Hon. Lucien Maréchal called upon for a few remarks, pledged his support for any worthwhile movement that might be undertaken to sponsor an Edmonton team in the Conference.

What with Fritz, Gelahve, Steve Olander, Paul Kirk, Morris Harris, Dan McNeill, youthful Jack Butcher, Eric Dugan, Jerry Seibert, and others, the crowd of 400 on hand the question of a crowsome revival got a pretty good airing.

Seibert told the gathering that interesting developments could be expected by the week-end, at the latest. He disclosed that a committee has been set up for some time on the project. It understood that Seibert is one of a group, including also Joe Shuster, that has approached Bob Shuster, Winnipeg star, with a view to having him come here next season as player-coach providing, of course, Edmonton has a team.

A CIVIC UNDERTAKING

Out of the many-sided discussion one conviction emerged where quite a number were concerned. As stated by an influential businessman, "This is a civic undertaking by private enterprise. If Edmonton is to have a team in the Western Conference it must be a civic undertaking, one that can win the approval of a great many citizens. This is how it was done in Calgary, Winnipeg and other cities."

"On this basis," he concluded, "there's a good chance that we can get it over."

Clearly, there's a good deal of enthusiasm going the rounds and some work already has been done. In a way, though, the situation is reminiscent of the time in the play "Life With Father," which Jack Wilson and his friends have been doing so well at the USO building for the past couple of nights.

As the Rev. Dr. Lloyd says in his closing prayer, "We hope to get built." Everything is arranged. All we have to do is raise the money.

CERDAN RETURNING

PARIS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Marek Cerdan, world middleweight champion, is flying back to the United States Thursday for a series of exhibitions, it was announced Tuesday.

More than half of his exhibition bouts will be in the United States, it was announced. He is expected to fight in the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

Quoth 19-year-old Eddie Niburns: "It's the only way to get early-season practice, I'm game. But pretty, it's a long wait for those early starts."

Minister Plans Study of Housing

R. H. Winters Tells Views On His New Tasks

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—(BUP)—Canada's new minister in charge of housing, 38-year-old Robert H. Winters, indicated here yesterday that he will do his utmost to make sure that enough reasonably-priced houses are built to meet the demand.

"I plan to make a careful study of the housing situation," he told the British United Press, "with a view to ensuring the provision of adequate houses within the means of people who are in the field for them."

GETS SEVERAL JOBS

When he was sworn in as reconstruction minister in Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's cabinet Monday, the youthful M.P. for Queen's—Lunenburg, N.S., was placed in charge of all federal housing projects, and of the Canadian Travel Bureau, the National Film Board and planning for emergency employment.

On housing, he added: "I have not been close to the planning, but I have always been impressed by the way Mr. Howe (trade minister) C. D. Howe, formerly reconstruction minister) approached the job and the results he achieved."

In regard to the travel bureau, the youngest member of the federal cabinet said: "I think we should stimulate more interest in tourism, particularly in the light of our dollar predicament."

MARITIME INTEREST
"As a member of the government from the maritimes, I naturally take a special interest in the tourist industry in our part of the country," he said. "I am hopeful that within the jurisdiction of federal responsibility and with due regard to the part played by the provinces, it may be possible to accelerate the development of the industry."

Of the National Film Board, whose chairmanship he takes over from Revenue Minister J. J. McCann, he said: "I want to see a film board with functions clearly defined and from which the taxpayer can feel that they are getting a return on their money by way of education, a stimulated tourist industry or otherwise."

The planning of projects to take up the slack in the event of widespread unemployment will also receive his careful attention, he said.

Diplomats Talk China And Berlin

Gypsum, one of the world's most plentiful materials, is also one of the most versatile, having at least 900 purposes. It is mostly used in plastering.

18 Men Are Injured In Dynamite Explosion

PORTAGE DU FOIT, Que., Nov. 17.—(CP)—Eighteen men were injured—seven seriously—when a dynamite explosion yesterday rocked nearby Limerick Island, about 60 miles northwest of Ottawa.

The injured men were part of an Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission crew blasting a channel through the island for the construction of a power dam to be used in the Cheneaux Falls project.

About 40 other men in the party escaped injury when the explosion set off a shower of rock over the Ottawa river island.

Three of those seriously injured were taken to hospital at Shawville, Que., about 15 miles east of Portage du Fout. The other four were taken to hospital at Renfrew, Ont., 15 miles southwest.

West Union Heads Visit Gen. Clay

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Chief of the three arms of the western European alliance yesterday visited Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor in Germany. They were Air Chief Marshal Sir James Robb, Gen. Jean de Laitre de Tassigny and Admiral Robert Jaurig.

ENGLISHMAN A MOVIE INVENTOR

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(CP)—After 40 years the Encyclopedia Britannica may acknowledge a forgotten Englishman as inventor of the movie theatre. British-born William Friese-Greene who patented the first moving-picture camera and projector in June, 1889.

The Encyclopedia has always given the credit to Thomas Edison. The publishers now have asked Miss Ray Allister, London writer, to write a 150-word biography of Friese-Greene.

She is the author of a recently-published book, "Friese-Greene—Close-up of an Inventor."

Good Progress Made In Nfld. Discussions

By William Wilson
OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said last night in an interview negotiations with the Newfoundland delegation on confederation are "being brought to a conclusion" but added it might take another day or two to get things finally ironed out.

He said good progress was made at a three-hour meeting in camera yesterday between the two groups of negotiators.

The date of the next and apparently final session of the meetings depends on the length of a cabinet meeting today. Mr. St. Laurent said the cabinet meeting has "heavy agenda." If there is no meeting today, the next will be Thursday.

It was disclosed earlier in the day that the talks were almost completed.

A province and its foreseeable revenues—were largely disposed of during last week-end, it was disclosed.

The gap was practically eliminated, sources said, by paring Newfoundland's likely expenditures below the $22,000,000 estimated last week and by concessions from the Canadian side.

One source said the island's elaborate fish marketing machinery will remain under provincial control.

The Great Fire of London in 1666 destroyed 13,500 houses and 80 churches, including St. Paul's Cathedral.

NOT FOR THE CALORIE-CAUTIOUS are wedges of thickly frosted cake and flaky pies displayed at home cookery corner of Edmonton's Public Market, Loyal Orange Benevolent Association past grand mistress, Mrs. J. Murray (left) and past mistress Mrs. D. Taylor retail the snacks to both stall operators and customers on market day.

TO MARKET, TO MARKET to buy a fat hen go hundreds of Edmontonians each Saturday morning when stalls of the Edmonton Public Market are piled high with fine farm produce. Old-timers can't remember when the market started, but recall as early as 1912 district farmers retailed butter and eggs, poultry and vegetables from bugles and democrats in market square. Market day means a busy Friday for stall operators such as Mrs. P. E. Chaffoux, Beaumont, who spends the previous day plucking several dozen chickens, duck and geese for Saturday trade.

ONLY THE CONCENTRATION on problem of choosing the right flower is real: emonations and roses are hand-made from crepe paper by Mrs. Lena Tritt of 10743 103 street, for sale at Edmonton's public market. Mrs. H. Wegner, Spruce Grove, is one of thousands of city and country customers who patronize the 300 stalls on market day.

Floods Badly Damage Roads

CALGARY, Nov. 17.—(CP)—Spring flood damage to Alberta highways was twice as great as had been originally estimated, work minister D. H. MacMillan said yesterday in an address before the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts. Mr. MacMillan said his department had tried to do the most economical work first as estimates could not be greatly exceeded. An additional $1,000,000 had been approved by the cabinet to help with flood costs. His personal policy was to provide at least one gravelled mile weather road in each settlement in the district, he said. There had to be a balance between expenditures on tourist roads and market roads to ensure a maximum return from both.

J. H. Drummond, association secretary, urged the province to adopt the Judge Porter recommendation that the province take full responsibility for indigent hospitalization. He warned delegates that councils were liable for damage suits in courts for such matters as keeping their roads and public works in repair. Delegates approved a resolution asking for reduction in time filing notice of appeal from assessment from 21 days to 10 days. The motion carried in favor of a motion municipal bodies should not be required to put up notices in post offices.

Presbyterian Church Choir Presents Pleasing Program

One of the most enjoyable programs ever presented by a church choir in Edmonton, was heard Tuesday night at First Presbyterian Church.

Under the able conducting of Arthur Newcombe, the choir of 11 male voices and 30 female voices presented a well-balanced program that was enjoyed thoroughly by a large and appreciative audience.

Miss Margaret Ann Brien, assistant artist, proved to be a favorite. The youthful pianist of whom Edmonton, Miss Jean Anderson, and John Markle.

Miss Shaw was well received with two songs of genuine freshness. Down in the Forest, and The Fairies.

Miss Anderson touched the hearts of Scots and Irish and everyone, with natural, rhythmic rendition of My Ain Folk, and Lead to the Light.

Mr. Markle sang the rousing and dramatic Tallalaba, and then, in happy contrast, crooned sweetly to Lady Moon.

Songs by the chorus were Morning, by Greg Spinks, Schubert's Serenade, Lullaby to the Lamb, by Reginald, and the hymn, O God, Green Grow the Lilacs, and Verdict of the Immortal.

A most creditable performance, it added again to the already well-established reputation of the choir of First Presbyterian Church.—C.H.

Mennonites Back From Paraguay

Extreme Hardships And Bickering Are Reported

ALTONA, Man., Nov. 17.—(CP)—Extreme hardships and bickering among emigrant Mennonites in their new home in Paraguay soon may drive more of them back to former homes in Manitoba.

This word came yesterday from two Mennonite families recently returned to this district from Paraguay. P. Enns, his wife and two daughters and Jacob Enns and his family are the latest of the returning emigrants—part of the band of 1,600 who left for South America last summer.

REPORTS CONFIRMED
Their reports of conditions in foreign Paraguay are confirmed by B. B. Diehlman, legal adviser to the emigrants. He said Mennonite leaders now in Paraguay have urged that no more large groups be sent to the new land until initial difficulties are surmounted and it is known how first settlers make out.

Bad health of Mrs. P. Enns—who could not stand the South American climate—forced one family to return to Manitoba and the other a great deal of discomfort suffered by many in the group had bred disputes among them. Others were overcome with sickness.

BLAME INEXPERIENCE
Formation of a new committee to lead the 10-mile trek in their new land in interior Paraguay caused more "misunderstanding" and "a bad mix-up" due to "inexperience," the families said.

They reported that many emigrant families camped at Villoria,

Retired Laborer Refuses To Talk of Inheritance

VANCOUVER, Nov. 17.—(CP)—A retired laborer, yesterday remained hidden behind locked doors while Vancouver newspapers frantically tried to ferret out his reaction to a $64,000 inheritance.

Herbert Alexander Ross, 42, buried himself in his room last night when the news of his good fortune reached the newspapers in a Canadian Press report from Manchester, Eng.

"He won't talk to anybody," his landlady, Mrs. N. Traversy, yelled from atop a flight of stairs in the rooming house which he shares with 12 other pensioners.

The Manchester report said Ross inherited the money from his uncle, Ross' cousin, claimed the money was concealed from Ross by a "wild uncle" for 30 years. For 40 years Ross "waited the length and breadth of Canada as a laborer," his representative said.

Mrs. Traversy provided the solution to the character of the retired man.

Newest Wildcat At Riverbend

By Hal Dean
Latest wildcat in the immediate Edmonton area and not yet officially announced, is Imperial Riverbend No. 1. Derrick already has been raised and rigging is in progress.

The site is on 184, of 22-51-32-W, on farm owned by C. G. Wall, about eight miles northeast of the city and just beyond Horse Hill community hall.

It was 1 1/2 mi. W. of the city, and the family has resided on the land for 50 years. J. Wall, father of the present owner, had purchased the quarter from the original homesteader, Jim McLeod.

Although mineral rights are property of the Crown, the land is in the older settled districts and several freehold parcels are understood to be in the vicinity.

Obtaining of additional strata information before completing an oil well, is given as reason for continuing at Imperial Riverbend No. 1. Coring is now proceeding below 250 feet. Devonian was topped at 3242 and depth of all bearing limestone is now given as 80 feet. The eighth drillstem test gives a small show of water and no oil.

A big production run in Leduc-Woodbend field accounted for the marked gain during the week ending Nov. 8. Total for the province to set price.

Wheat Leads Chicago Gains

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The advance in grain prices moved right along today, despite some heavy selling in the wheat market. Wheat took over the market leadership as milling interest brought large quantities of December and May contracts.

Actual sales of mills reflected good flour business. December wheat sold at the best price since April while July and September were seasonal highs. Most selling appeared to be profit-taking as little hedging pressure was reported.

December corn touched a new high for the month at 1.45 1/2. The market opened slightly easier, picking its gains after the first hour's activity. Toward the close prices eased a bit, reducing the best gains.

Wetaskiwin Opens Two New Schools

WETASKIWIN, Nov. 17.—Two new schools opened today in this city. One was the new high school to house the 170 students, nearly half of whom come from the municipal School Division of Wetaskiwin. The other was the Sacred Heart school, built and operated by the separate school board and at which about 75 pupils attend for instruction.

The new high school was originally the hospital erected on the exhibition grounds for the army camp. It has been completely re-modelled as to its interior, and cost approximately $30,000 and it is considered it will fill the needs of the city for a high school for some years to come.

The Alexandra school, which formerly housed the high school students, is now retained for elementary education. It was realized the school was very overcrowded, so much so in fact, that grade 1 children were divided into two classes and each class would only attend a half day.

The new school has the added advantage that it is close to the dormitory and most of the out-of-town children.

The parochial school of the Sacred Heart was visited on Sunday by His Excellency Archbishop J. R. McManis of Edmonton, accompanied by Reverend Fathers R. V. Britton, P. J. O'Reilly and John Smith. Following Benediction in the Sacred Heart Church at 10 p.m., the school was blessed by His Excellency.

The cornerstone of the new school, built at a cost of about $25,000, was laid by Rev. Father J. R. McDonald, parish priest, made a short address and then introduced His Excellency to the congregation of the people of the parish in having erected so excellent a school.

Rural Electrification Proceeds at Westlock

WESTLOCK, Nov. 17.—At a meeting at the Coho home last Monday night, R. T. Little was named president of the organization on the formation of the Wabash Rural Electrification Association, which will work toward provision of Calgary Power service for more than fifty homes in the district.

It is expected that more applications to join the organization will be made in the future, as the district to be covered by the association is defined.

A committee has been named to investigate and propose routes for the area to be included in the association's plan. Application is being made by the Secretary, A. R. Brown on behalf of the organization for proper papers from the supervisor of cooperative activities at Edmonton.

The group was advised by Calgary Power that it was possible that installation work might be done next spring providing the organization was fully formed and financed by that time. The members of the group would be required to purchase outright the line and transformers to be used in the plan.

It is estimated that the cost per member household would be in the neighborhood of between $600 and $800. Rates for the power would be 25 per kilowatt hour.

Collectors for the association are now being undertaken, and it is believed that next spring will be the time when the finance committee installation for all members.

Several other cooperative groups are said to be forming in the district, with the aim of obtaining electric power for their homes from the power company. It is understood that some are at the same stage of development as the Wabash cooperative.

The latest achievement of the sports association has been the erection of an extra foot sheltering fence and a waiting room for the spectators at hockey games and it is hoped that this added comfort will increase the attendance at the hockey games this winter.
